County sets '85 budget

Spending held down, levies up 4.8 percent

Haliburton County council has approved an austere 1985 budget that envisions no significant new expenditures and an overall increase of only 4.86 percent in the total levy to municipalities.

Budget chairman Harry Davis said the committee was "determined that the budget should and must not be an unfair burden on any municipality."

Davis said he anticipated that transfer payments from the government for various services under county jurisdiction would not be sufficient to meet increased costs this year.

The only bad news in the budget, other than a deficit of $10,500 from Hyland Crest in 1984 that must be absorbed this year, was a cut in the county's grant to the Chamber of Commerce. It was reduced to $54,000 this year from $60,000 in 1984. Even that much of a cutback did not suit at least one member of council. Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell, a long time opponent of the Chamber, spoke against giving the organization any support from county coffers, and subsequently registered a 'nay' vote against the entire budget as a result.

In general, however, there were no pointed questions from councillors about the budget, and it was passed without amendment.

In the general government category, the 1985 budget estimates expenditures of $117,250, down substantially from 1984 actual spending of more than $142,000. The difference is primarily the result of higher spending last year to upgrade the heating system in the county office building from oil fired hot water to electric baseboard units which are expected to reduce overall costs in the future. There was also a $10,000 provision for working funds in 1984 which has been dropped from the budget for 1985.

Spending for protection to persons and property is estimated at $2,500 for 1985, a reflection of 1984 actual spending of $2,450. The only two expenditures under the category are $1500 for mutual fire aid and $1000 for wolf bounties.

The biggest single expenditure in the county budget remains its roads system, and it is here that the effect of rising costs and diminishing transfer payments from provincial coffers is most keenly felt. Last year local taxpayers contributed more than $590,000 for construction and maintenance of county roads, and this year it is anticipated that local contributions will rise to $617,500.

Health services spending consists of the county apportionment for the Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit, and it is up only marginally, to $59,000 from a budgeted $58,000 last year.

Anticipated expenditures for social and family services are down in the 1985 budget despite the deficit carried over from Hyland Crest operations in 1984. Spending estimates have been set at $193,500 in this category, compared with actual expenditures of more than $225,000 last year. That figure included a

Taxpayers shell out

Local municipalities will contribute a total of $921,832 to meet Haliburton County council's 1985 budget of $1.15 million. At a meeting last Wednesday, county council approved the budget and a levy increase of 4.86 percent.

Apportionments have been adjusted slightly this year to reflect changes in overall assessments in the various municipalities, but no municipality faces a substantial increase in its contributions to the county budget.

The greatest shift is in Sherborne et al, where two townships that were formerly crown holdings, Lawrence and Nightingale, are now under local administration.

Anson, Hindon and Minden will contribute 16.437 percent of the total county levy, or $151,521, a slight decrease in percentage liability.

Bicroft's liability remains substantially unchanged at 1.148, which amounts to $10,582 local tax dollars.

Cardiff's percentage contribution to overall county expenditures has fallen slightly this year, to 4.95 percent from 5.395 percent in 1984. Cardiff's levy has been set at $45,639 for 1985.

Dysart et al, which contributes the lion's share of the county's budget, has also benefitted from a slight downward shift in percentage liability, to 36.65 percent from 37.96 last year. Dysart's levy for 1985 is $337,915.

Glamorgan Township ratepayers will contribute slightly more on a percentage basis than they did last year. The township will provide 5.88 percent of the total levy this year, compared with 5.74 percent last year. Total levy for Glamorgan this year has been set at $54,212.

Lutterworth's percentage liability has decreased slightly, to 7.51 percent from 7.77 percent, with a total levy of $69,303.

Monmouth's liability also is down a little, to 3.64 percent from 3.71 percent, or $33,582 this year.

In Sherborne et al assessment has risen significantly and the corresponding percentage liability figures also are up, to 10.696 percent from 8.022 in 1984. Sherborne's apportionment for 1985 has been set at $98,599.

In Snowdon, apportionment liability is down slightly from 1984, at 3.44 percent from 3.58 percent. The total levy to Snowdon this year is $31,720.

Stanhope's apportionment stands at 9.62 percent for 1985, down from 9.85 percent last year. The total levy for Stanhope has been set at $88,753.

Bridge issue gets last airing, construction begins in April

The issue of the Ingoldsby bridge appears to be resolved once and for all, with both sides having a final chance to air their views at a meeting of county council last Wednesday before a decision was made to proceed with construction.

Council voted to award the contract to R.T. Grills Construction, whose bid of $399,877 was the lowest among a dozen contractors who responded to the county's invitation to tender.

From the outset the bridge issue has been polarized into a majority of area residents who wanted the old, single lane steel structure replaced and a minority who felt the new bridge would damage their property, hinder boat traffic through the narrows and eliminate a sand beach on the south east side of the waterway.

Joe Curtin, an Ingoldsby property owner, has been the chief opponent of the project, and last Wednesday he tried once again to convince the county not to proceed with construction.

Curtin said the county has been unable to produce "any hard evidence" that the old bridge is a traffic hazard, that it is structurally unsound, or that traffic counts are substantial enough to make a new bridge necessary. He also argued that the old bridge has merit as a scenic attraction.

Curtin's main concern however, was the beach area which lies on the shoreline allowance abutting property he owns on the south east side of the narrows between Kashagawigamog and Canning Lakes. He described the site as "one of the most safe, readily accessible beaches in the Ingoldsby area", and said he is convinced, after viewing drawings of the proposed new bridge, that the beach "will be obliterated" by construction.

"The loss of that beach will be such as to adversely affect much of the community," Curtin told councillors. He also noted it would be "a commercial loss" to him personally, the bridge, the risk of loose rock fall falling into the channel, construction noise, and the possible disruption of the aquifer by pile driving.

On the matter of the rip rap to shore up new abutments for the

since he hopes to reopen a small cottage resort on the property.

Curtin also listed a number of other potential problems construction of the new bridge would create, including damage to the aesthetic quality of the adjacent lands, narrowing the channel to boat traffic, possible erosion of shoreline below bridge, Curtin urged county council to at least consider the use of steel cladding or gabion baskets if it was not prepared to install concrete walls.

County road committee chairman Murray Fearrey took issue with Curtin's characterization of the PC's meet the candidates, Saturday convention set

Progressive Conservative Party supporters throughout Haliburton and Victoria are gearing up for a massive nomination convention in Lindsay this Saturday at which the party's candidate for the May 2 provincial election will be chosen.

As many as 1,360 delegates will be eligible to participate in the selection process, twice as many as at any previous nominating convention.

Four men are vying for the nomination, and local poll captains got a chance to hear from the candidates last Sunday morning at Wig-a-Mog Inn. The hopefuls are Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey who joined the race last week, Emily Township Don McCumber, Fenelon Falls reeve Dave Murray who has carried the PC banner in a previous campaign, and Minden businessman Larry McKnight.

Each candidate had five minutes to speak to the gathering on Sunday before fielding questions from the audience.

Dave Murray said he believes strongly that the PC's can defeat Liberal incumbent John Ekins this time around. Murray said his credentials for the task include 16 years in municipal politics, and involvement in other organizations including the Ontario Association of Pharmacists.

Murray cited tourism and lumbering as the two major areas of concern in the northern end of the riding, and referred in particular to

Police News

General Occurrences

During the period of March 18 to 24, personnel at Minden Detachment investigated the following occurrences: five motor vehicle accidents which resulted in two minor injuries; and 34 general occurrences, including three thefts and three break-ins.

Accidents

Friday, March 22, at 5:20 p.m., Alan Northey, age 24, of Minden, was rounding a curve on Hwy. 121 in Dudley Township, when he was forced to swerve to avoid an oncoming vehicle. His 1983 Datsun pick-up received $5,000 damage when it struck a rock-cut, then rolled over. There were no injuries. The other vehicle was not located.

On Saturday, March 23, at 10:00 p.m., John Horsley, age 37, of Wilberforce lost control of his 1975 GMC pick-up on Hwy. 648 in Monmouth Township while rounding a curve. The vehicle struck a restraining barrier causing $5,000 damage to itself and $500 to the barrier. Horsley and passenger Ronald Jones of Listowel received minor injuries. Horsley was charged with careless driving and with driving under suspension.

Court

The preliminary trial of Paul Crofts, charged with attempted murder, was held last Wednesday in Lindsay. Judge George Inrig committed him for trial in Supreme Court, by Judge and Jury. The trial will likely be held in the fall assizes of 1985. Crofts is currently being held in Penetang Ontario Hospital on a Lieutenant Governor's Warrant.

PC poll captains from Haliburton County got a chance Sunday to meet the men who hope to carry the party banner in Victoria Haliburton after the May 2 election. The nomination will be made this Saturday at a convention at I.E. Weldon secondary school in Lindsay. Here some of those on hand for the breakfast meeting listen to the candidates' speeches.

Volunteers honoured

In recognition of the volunteer service of its employees to the community, Sir Sandford Fleming College presents an annual Community Service Award. Nominations are now open and the public is encouraged to submit names of candidates for awards.

The College, as a community-oriented organization, instituted the awards to acknowledge its dedication to the communities it serves through the recognition of exceptional volunteer service of its employees. Last year's recipients were Carl Kimmett and Carol Northcott. The awards are intended to honour persons whose voluntary contributions are not otherwise publicly rewarded and who do not benefit in any sense other than self-satisfaction in the performance of service to the community at large.

Nominees must be full or part-time employees of Sir Sandford Fleming College. Their contributions must have been performed on a voluntary basis over a period exceeding two years in the College's region. This includes Victoria, Haliburton or Peterborough Counties, the Town of Cobourg or a section of Northumberland County served by the College.

Nominations, along with a brief outline of the candidate's background, should be forwarded to the President's Office, Brealey Drive, Peterborough, K9J 7B1 by April 19, 1985. The awards will be presented at the Frost and Sutherland Campuses Spring Convocation ceremonies.

Grants increase

The recent announcement of a 5.2 per cent increase in college system funding by the Province means that Sir Sandford Fleming College will be able to continue its long term academic and financial planning during a climate of restraint, says Rod Rork, Executive Director of Administrative Services.

In developing its 1985-86 budget, SSFC anticipated a five per cent increase in Ontario government support, according to Rork. "This level of funding will assist us in continuing to pursue several major initiatives as well as in providing financial stability for the College," he said.

Grants to groups maintained

There was generally good news last week for local organizations who look for funding from County council. Council adopted a 1985 budget that includes a number of grants to non profit groups which operate within county boundaries.

Haliburton County Home Support Services will receive $1000 from county coffers, the same level of funding it has received in previous years.

The Haliburton County Information Centre, which operates from the Drag River Municipal Building in Haliburton, also will receive a grant of $1000 from the County this year.

Under the category of recreation and culture, County council agreed to continue its assistance to the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association, which will receive $3000 in 1985. The Paudash Trailblazers snowmobile club in the eastern corner of the county will get a $1000 grant, while a further $1000 will go to the Dorset club.

The Guild of Fine Arts was granted $1,250 from County council in the 1985 budget.

Victoria County parents to protest closings

As many as 150 parents are expected to descend on the Victoria County Board of Education on Wednesday night to protest plans to close public schools in Kinmount, Norland, Cobocok, Burnt River and Kirkfield. The board decided last year that the schools should be phased out and replaced by two new schools in the Cobocok area and at Kirkfield.

The decision has been an unpopular one. Parents of youngsters in the five smaller schools spoke out against the plan before the board made its decision, and they have continued to object. A committee dubbed SOS for Save Our Schools was formed recently, and is leading the delegation to Wednesday's board meeting.

A spokesman for SOS said Monday that buses have been chartered to take parents to the meeting.

More than 100 people protested the planned closures at a previous board meeting.

The board has asked the Ministry of Education to fund construction of the new schools.

Separate school funding under fire

Major public school teacher and trustee organizations in Ontario are concerned about what the Ontario Government's decision to extend separate school funding will do to public education in the province -- so concerned, in fact, that for the first time in living memory they spoke to Queen's Park with one voice recently.

Five organizations told the government's Planning and Implementation Committee, appointed last July to implement the new separate school funding, that the government's "headlong rush" has not allowed local school boards time to plan or to involve their local communities.

The February 28 presentation in Toronto was the first time that the following groups have ever submitted a joint brief to government: the Ontario Public School Trustees' Association, the Northern Ontario School Trustees' Association, the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario, the Ontario Public School Teachers' Association and the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

Lynda Stone, vice-president of NOSTA and a Muskoka Board of Education trustee, said trustees were shocked by the lack of consultation before Premier William Davis reversed his longstanding policy on separate school funding last June 12. "Before any new announcement is made, we hope that the recommendations will be shared with us and that we will have a chance to provide input. That applies most particularly to school boards and schools in Northern Ontario," she told the eight-member commission.

Malcolm Buchanan, OSSTF president, noted that no legislation has yet been tabled in the Legislature authorizing the extended separate school funding, and that MPPs have yet to debate the issues. At the same time, he said, evidence is mounting that creating two publicly funded parallel school systems will threaten programs and services to students -- particularly in northern or rural parts of the province.

No board should be allowed to proceed with implementation of the new plan before fundamental issues are resolved, the five organizations urge. Those issues include whether the government's proposals are constitutional (the Metropolitan Toronto School Board plans to challenge the constitutionality, supported by more than 30 other boards), whether the rights of redundant teachers will be protected, the effects on local taxpayers, and student access to schools.

beach as "public". He noted that since Curtin owns the abutting property, he has full use and control of the beach, and therefore the right to order anyone off it.

Curtin's stand was supported by another area property owner, Helen Newton, who claimed the beach is "ideal for small children" and "the only safe swimming area" in that part of Ingoldsby.

Newton also expressed concern that the new bridge might result in higher vehicle speeds, creating a greater safety hazard.

Newton said she felt county council had viewed area property owners' concerns as "trivial", and added that the bridge project "threatens our environment" and may take away people's summer enjoyment.

In his response, Fearrey noted that some 40 feet of beach area would remain after the new abutments are constructed. He also questioned how the beach could be considered safe for small children when boats pass through the channel within a few feet of the shore.

Fearrey also attempted to allay concerns about the possibility that more property might be expropriated for road projects through the community in the next few years.

"There will not be any other property requirements in Ingoldsby," he said. "We're well aware of the tightness of the Ingoldsby area."

On the matter of vehicle speeds, Fearrey said the road committee would recommend that speeds through Ingoldsby be reduced to 50 kilometres an hour from the present 60 kph when the bridge is completed.

A large number of property owners who support construction of the new bridge also were on hand to have their views aired. Spokesman Morgan Loucks, a Canning Lake property owner, said people in the area favour the new bridge by at least a five to one ratio.

Loucks said that in his opinion the old bridge is "very unsafe". As for Curtin's contention that it has some heritage value, Loucks said "to me it's an eyesore."

Loucks also gave no credence to concerns that the new bridge would narrow the navigable channel through the narrows. He said the area safe for boat passage is no more than 30 feet wide under the old bridge, and will remain that way when the new bridge is in place. He also said arguments about reduced channel depth are "a red herring", since the channel through to Canning Lake farther south is actually shallower.

Summing up the county's position following the public representations, Fearrey said the concern over rip rap fill is a valid one and the road committee will consider alternatives.

As for the bridge itself, Fearrey said it did not make sense to spend at least $100,000 to repair the old structure which might last 10 years when the new bridge costing four times as much would be safe for at least 50 years.

Acting Anson, Hindon and Minden deputy reeve Gary Kenney who was present as an observer, said his municipality is "totally committed to the idea that we need a new bridge."

As for the beach, he noted that there are other options in the Ingoldsby area, and suggested that his municipality would work actively with county council to locate and develop alternate public beach facilities in the community.

Construction of the new bridge is expected to begin early in April, with completion slated for late June. The narrows will remain closed to vehicular traffic throughout construction. Detours will follow South Lake Road to Minden.

The local Easter Seal campaign, administered by the Haliburton Rotary Club, got a boost on Thursday night as Rick Vaughan, centre, talked about overcoming the handicap of losing a hand and how he has overcome it. Listening are Rotary president Paul the need to address water levels and the lake reservoir system.

Wilson, left, and the club's Easter Seal campaign chairman, Art Dawson, right. The club hopes local people will give generously to ensure that the local objective is met.

Don McCumber said he too believes that the PC's can unseat John Eakins in Victoria/Haliburton. McCumber, an instructor at Sir Sandford Fleming College, said his experience includes secondment by the federal government recently to study lifelines training in the prison system and involvement in planning the Ontario Youth Start program.

McCumber said his motivation for seeking the nomination is "a deep concern to help others" and "a total commitment to see this riding progress."

In his address to the gathering Larry McKnight cited a long family association with Conservative philosophies. He said that through his business involvements he has learned "how to stand my ground in precarious situations."

McKnight said he has worked for the party for the past four years, and has "assembled a formidable election team" of "Grit busters."

"I'm tired of seeing this riding miss out on grants" and other programs because it has a member who is not in the mainstream of the government, McKnight said.

He said he is convinced that in this election the PC's will do to the Liberals provincially what they did to them federally, winning a sweeping majority.

Beer drought ends

The long drought ended for beer drinkers on Monday when brewery workers returned to the job and retail outlets reopened following a month-long lockout.

In Haliburton the doors of the Brewers Retail store were opened early for licensees whose stocks of brew had long been depleted by the labour management impasse.

The store did a brisk business throughout the day as people replenished supplies of their favourite brew.

Scheduled deliveries to bars and hotels were expected to be back to normal within a few days as the breweries gear up to meet the temporary surge in demand.

County objects to CAS budget

Haliburton County council is prepared to formally protest an 18 percent increase in the budget of the Children's Aid Society serving the area.

Cardiff deputy reeve Ross Duncan, council's representative on the CAS, said he believes the increase is totally uncalled for, and urged county council to take the matter up with the provincial minister of Community and Social Services.

Duncan told council last Wednesday that in addition to the whopping increase in spending anticipated by the CAS for 1985, there is a budget deficit of $226,000 from 1984 that must be absorbed. He said negotiations are underway with the ministry to try to have the province meet 90 percent of the deficit, but the other 10 percent would be assessed back against the county councils in the Peterborough area, including Haliburton County.

Duncan said part of the increase in the budget is salaries for eight new employees who are expected to be added to the existing CAS staff of 50 people, a manpower increase which Duncan said he did not feel was justified.

Glamorgan deputy reeve Jane Franklin put a different perspective on the CAS budget however. Franklin, who is Duncan's immediate predecessor as council's representative to the CAS, said it is difficult to predict the demands that will be made on CAS services in any given year, and hence the organization has a hard time living within a specific budget. As well, she said there has been no increase for the CAS in the previous four years.

The matter was left with Duncan, who said he would keep county council informed of any new developments on the 1984 deficit liability and the proposed 1985 budget.

$31,725 debenture obligation for Hyland Crest, however, and it has now been discharged.

One question mark remains in the social and family services category, however. In 1984 the county's share of the district Children's Aid Society budget was $28,484, and the 1985 county budget estimates a $30,000 contribution to the CAS. But the organization has a substantial deficit, and according to the county's

Deer feeding continues

Local Ministry of Natural Resources conservation officers are continuing to provide small amounts of feed for deer in area yards, but crusty snow conditions are enabling the animals to find natural browse.

Fish and Wildlife supervisor Dave Atkinson said grain is still being made available at yards on private land where natural browse is scarce.

To date this winter about 40 tons of feed has been used in the Minden District.

CAS representative, Ross Duncan, local taxpayers will have to provide an as yet undetermined portion of that over expenditure.

Spending under recreation and cultural services is largely unchanged from last year, at $62,725 compared with actual 1984 spending of $61,749.

The planning and development portion of the new budget is up by $9000, to $94,000 from $85,683, despite a reduction of $6000 in the grant to the Chamber of Commerce. The category includes the $15,000 contribution the county made to the Chamber's building fund however, accounting for the increase in overall spending.

Total anticipated expenditures in the 1985 budget are $1,146,475, of which $921,832 will come directly from local property taxation and the remaining $225,000 will come from a general support grant of $60,000, a resource equalization grant of $100,000, land division application fees estimated at $30,000, other revenue of $35,000, and supplementary taxation of $10,000.

Anyone who has ever had cause to doubt the efficacy of local government as a cornerstone of democracy would be reassured by county council's handling of the Ingoldsby bridge issue. On this matter, more than any other that has come before council in recent years, the decision making process has taken all points of view into account.

The need for a new bridge in the community has been known for a number of years, but it did not come to a head until last year, when county council's road committee was challenged on a decision not to proceed with construction. Funds had been spent to design a new bridge, the old structure was badly in need of repair, and procrastination was no longer an acceptable alternative. To its credit, the committee agreed to take a new look at the bridge proposal, and in opting to schedule construction for this summer, the committee heeded the voice of the majority at county council.

There remained the matter of addressing public concerns. Here the risks were greater, for the issue had become polarized. As subsequent events proved, the majority of ratepayers in the area were in favour of a new structure, but the majority, as usual, spoke softly and carried no big stick. On the other pole were the objectors, principally Joe Curtin, whose lands would be affected by construction, or who felt the expenditure of more than $350,000 for a new bridge could not be justified in times of restraint. The opponents spoke forcefully and well. They identified some genuine problems with the original design. They argued that the old bridge had aesthetic value. They contended that abutments for the new bridge would damage or obliterate a sand beach that had long been used by people in the immediate area.

County council responded to these concerns with good will and good sense. The original design was altered to use smaller beams that would provide greater clearance between the underside of the bridge and the channel below. A promise was made that council would consider ways to keep loose rock from obstructing the existing boat channel, and that speed limits through Ingoldsby would be reduced to minimize the risk that vehicles would be tempted to travel faster over the new two lane bridge.

There was also an opportunity for those in favour of the new bridge to express their views at the public forum of county council.

Throughout the process no one lost their tempers. No one made rash statements that would damage credibility or spawn ill will. And no one, it seems has cause to argue that the will of the majority has not been well served by county council's decision to proceed with a new bridge at a cost of $400,000.

Local government is a valuable tool when it is used with respect by mature and rational people. The Ingoldsby bridge issue is a clear demonstration of that fact.

Speaking out

Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell will not be a popular man with many people for his statement last Wednesday that the Chamber of Commerce should be abolished, but he at least deserves grudging respect for having the courage to speak out. While he expressed his displeasure with the Chamber last June and subsequently resigned as one of two county council representatives on the Chamber board, he remained silent on the matter at subsequent county council sessions. That silence was broken when it came time to vote on the 1985 county budget which includes a $54,000 grant to the Chamber. Gambell registered a nay vote on the budget and said he felt county support for the Chamber should end.

In taking that stand, Gambell has opened himself to criticism from many quarters, perhaps deservedly. But at least he has made his position public in the formal proceedings of council.

System needs changing, reader says

To the Editor

To The Editor:

As a long-time seasonal resident and subscriber to your newspaper, I have come to respect both the quality of your reporting and generally the balanced and reasoned views of your editorials.

However, the editorial "Fair to Whom?" in your March 13, 1985 edition pertaining to the issue of education taxation for seasonal properties seems to have overlooked completely the point being made by both the Miskwabi Area Cottagers' Association and FOCA. Neither group is seeking to deny municipalities having heavy concentrations of seasonal properties sufficient revenues to cover the costs of proper educational facilities and social welfare services. What is being said is that there is a better way of financing these services. Over 50% of our municipal tax bill involves the cost of providing education facilities which, from a realistic point of view, can never be utilized by cottagers.

When our property taxation system was conceived in the last century it made some sense to base the costs of education on the ownership of residential property since invariably the majority of property owners in a given municipality would avail themselves of the facilities - those who paid benefited. However, the situation has changed with the advent of cottage country. In the township where my cottage is located, upwards of 80% of the property owners pay for schools twice, once in the municipality where their principal residence is located and again in Haliburton. If it is true that all cottagers are wealthy as you maintain (and this could be debated), would it not be fairer to have them, together with other so-called wealthy citizens who do not own cottages, finance education throughout the province via the income tax system? This would remove the inequity of municipalities or regions which happen to benefit from an influx of summer residents through an accident in nature, being able to afford better educational facilities than similar areas without such an attraction, all other factors being equal.

You are correct in stating that the present system works, but it does not work as well as it should or could. I therefore beg to differ with your view that there is no reason to change it.

Objections to proposed spa raised

To the Editor:

I am writing in regard to Wren Blair's proposed health spa on Lake Kashagawigamog. An exclusive resort of this nature with its six chalets and pool located adjacent to his present home (with an addition of undisclosed size added to it) would undoubtedly have economic advantages for Minden township in particular and Haliburton County as a whole. There are, however, some long-term disadvantages to this proposal which in my opinion far outweigh the monetary considerations.

First of all, I am concerned about the water quality in Lake Kashagawigamog. Ten years ago when we bought our property, the rocks along the shoreline were clean and rough to touch. Over the past three or four years, I have noticed a brownish slime developing on them which has made them slippery. This may not sound very scientific, but it is a sign to me that the lake is slowly reaching a danger point in water purity. An additional 15 acres of commercially-developed lakefront (presently zoned residential) could in time prove to be the proverbial last straw for the quality of water enjoyed now by Lake Kashagawigamog's year-round residents, cottagers, and resort guests alike.

Secondly, there are already more commercial enterprises on Lake Kashagawigamog than on any other lake I know of in Haliburton County. Within a 4 mile radius of our home there are presently 14 resorts and lodges, 3 tent and trailer campgrounds, 2 marinas, a private girls' camp and an airport. I would stress here that I am not opposed to any one of these existing ventures in the least. I simply feel that the delicate balance between year-round residences, seasonal homes and cottages, and commercial properties could very easily be irreparably upset if yet another major resort were to be established.

My third objection to the proposed health spa is that Mr. Blair's request for 15 acres of land to be re-zoned from residential to resort-commercial, would open the door to much more than a health spa in the future. The most effective power municipal councils have over the use of land is the zoning itself. Once these 15 acres of prime residential land have been zoned resort-commercial, the real possibility exists that Mr. Blair (or

The annual Glen Dart Memorial hockey tournament is scheduled for the Haliburton arena this coming Saturday, March 30. This has been one of the most successful hockey tournaments up through the years ever played in the local arena. The tourney has lost a bit of the popularity that it once had but on the other hand many hockey players and fans always look forward to this day when they can be assured of great hockey action from the young players who will be out strutting their stuff. When this hockey tournament was first organized a committee made up of local hockey enthusiasts and close friends of Glen Dart was formed. The group included Fred Neimann, Ron Curry, Frank Andison, Albert LaRue and Berkeley Feir. There is only one member of this group still living and that is Albert LaRue. Up through the years this tournament has featured some great teams and some great hockey. Many hours of work each year go into the preparation of this tourney to make sure that everything runs smoothly. Many people keep asking me, "Who was Glen Dart?" Before his untimely death Glen Dart was one of the best hockey players who ever laced up a pair of skates. He was also a fine gentleman and he was a credit to hockey and his community. Everyone liked Glen and it was only appropriate that the Glen Dart Memorial tournament was set up in his memory. At one time he was the local Recreation Director, worked in the family bakery business which was known as Dart's Bakery and played hockey with the Haliburton Huskies. Glen was in the army and played hockey at that time in Moncton and later on played with the Young Rangers in Toronto, a team which at that time played in the Junior A hockey league. If he had continued to play hockey he would have made the National Hockey League. Glen Dart was not only a gentleman but a truly great sportsman.

I think that one of the most interesting aspects of the world of sports comes under the heading of predictions. What makes this subject so unpredictable is the fact that sometimes when players and experts make predictions on upcoming sporting events they find out later that they have made the wrong decision and then have to sit down and eat crow. It is sometimes quite amusing before a sporting event takes place to sit down and read the sports columnists' reports on just what they think will happen, and then after it's over to read and hear the real truth on just what really did happen. Can the Edmonton Oilers repeat and win this year's Stanley Cup? I personally don't think so, but remember I have been wrong before.

Doug Hodgson phoned the Echo last week to inform us that he was wrong about the information he gave us re last week's Pic of the Past about the train wreck. According to information supplied by Bud Thayer this wasn't the Barnum's Lake wreck, it was the wreck at Head Lake in the village of Haliburton. We are still not sure what year this train wreck occurred and we are hoping that some of our readers can enlighten us on this subject. There was a wreck in 1922 at Barnum's Lake.

The Haliburton County Home Support Service's Drop-In Centre, which is located in the Drag River Municipal Building on Maple Avenue in Haliburton, is featuring coffee hour speakers about twice a week. This Wednesday, March 27 Derry Wilford of the Bank of Montreal, who is also a photographer, will be speaking on the subject of photography. On Monday, April 1 Barb Bolin, Director of the Haliburton Campus of Sir Sandford Fleming College will be talking about their summer and spring courses. Dalton MacDonald, Warden of Haliburton County, will be the speaker on Wednesday, April 3 and he will be bringing everyone up to date on the news from County Council.

Don't forget that on Friday, March 29 the village of Haliburton is sponsoring its fourth annual Daffodil Day in support of the Cancer Society. Nancy Brink of Nancy's Flowers has arranged for participating businesses to give a fresh cut daffodil to their customers in expectation of a donation to the Cancer Society. This is a very worthwhile project.

Rick Vaughn, local high school teacher and musician, was the guest speaker when the Rotary Club of Haliburton held their weekly meeting at the United Church on Thursday night last. Rick gave a very interesting talk and played a medley of songs on his saxophone, accompanied by Nancy Picard on the piano.

A few Haliburton personal notes...Mr. and Mrs. Ken Lewis were visitors to the Toronto Sportsmen's Show last Thursday...Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elstone were visitors to Mississauga over the weekend...Mr. and Mrs. Mike Easton have returned home after visiting relatives in Pasadena, California...Mr. and Mrs. Grant Scheffee were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Scheffee in Oshawa...We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jack Fleming is a patient in a Peterborough hospital while Allan Lyons is in an Oshawa hospital.

Alfred Harrison of Wilberforce called the Echo office on Monday to inform us that he was visiting his brother, Allan Harrison, who resides in the Allsaw area, over the weekend. He told us that he and his brother Allan enjoyed watching a total of eight deer that were lingering on the property. Seeing the deer was a very exciting experience, according to Alfred.

Queen's Park Report

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

Adequate road funding needed now

Last month, Premier Frank Miller told the Ontario Good Roads Association that he wants to "reinstate the priority of roads" in Ontario after years of neglect.

Mr. Miller went on to say that "we will find it much easier to finance long-term assets like roads and highways."

In this pre-election warm-up, the Premier and one of the three transportation ministers then announced an "increase" in municipal road subsidies from $506.4 million to $523.8 million.

As well, the Government threw in an additional $7.7 million, supposedly from BILD, since the Premier was committed to "Keep on building."

What the Premier neglected to tell us was where the $25.1 million 'increase' came from.

According to the 1983-84 Public Accounts, the Ministry of Transportation was allocated $540,147,000 for the Provincial Highways Program, yet recorded actual spending at only $516,229,311.

For the municipal roads program, the Ministry allocated $506,958,000, while actual spending is put at $504,623,982.

This total amounts to $26,252,307 in unspent road dollars, which it seems have been rolled over to become this year's 'increase'.

With 28 per cent of all municipal roads and streets in Ontario now inadequate by the Government's own standards, what we need is not a shell game with public money, but a genuine and substantial commitment to improving our deteriorating road system.

In areas such as Muskoka, Renfrew, Victoria-Haliburton, Stormont-Dundas-Glenora and Peterborough, using last year's funds as this year's increase will be putting the local road systems in peril.

I urge the Premier and his three Ministers of Transportation to provide adequate funding, as was promised during the recent leadership campaign.

During my years of political life I cannot remember a particular incident which so disappointed me in the political process as when I learned that Premier Davis passed an order-in-council three days before he left office increasing the pensions of his assistant Clare Westcott and of his deputy ministers.

The order-in-council passed February 5 declares Mr. Westcott, a civil servant for only 11 years, to be deemed to have been a civil servant for 35 years. In this way he will now receive $10,000 additional unearned pension. The pension is now close to $60,000. But that is not all.

The then premier named Westcott to the Police Commission, where as chairman he will receive, not $70,000 but $80,671. You see the salary of the chairman was increased less than two weeks before Mr. Westcott's appointment was "officially" announced. What I find particularly disturbing as a taxpayer is how he can have the gall to lecture the Metro Police about going to Calgary if they want a 9.5 percent salary increase. His increase is 70.5 percent.

Clare Westcott, despite being a schedule two crown employee, continually flaunted with impunity, the rules governing political activity that apply to all other crown employees.

Mr. Miller has defended Davis' action by saying that these people gave up so much to help government at that level, and that many actually suffered a reduction in pay. If they are of that quality, then they should have no problem readjusting later. The truth is when deputies retire they are given other provincial appointments. He forgets also that many back benchers of all parties sold their small businesses to devote their efforts full time to their constituents.

I cannot help but recall the many people who contact my office asking for additional help to pay their taxes, heating and electrical bills, and to buy goods, but are told they are receiving the maximum allowable amount. There is no special order-in-council for the working poor.

It is no wonder that people today become disillusioned with politics and politicians. This action should not be condoned at any level of public life, or by any party whatever their political stripe.

Just think of the headlines that would have been generated, had Pierre Trudeau been the initiator of that order-in-council. People would have been up in arms.

But then this is Ontario, and we all too often are conditioned to think that these things can only happen in Ottawa.

Are you thinking in metric yet?

Question

By Catherine Denholm

At last metric measure is here to stay. The 12 inches and one foot have gone forever with the number of square rods in an acre. School children now multiply and divide by 10 instead of all the variety of numbers we had to memorize. The units used in the study of science are now the same ones used every day.

There was no alternative, for Canada, except an all-out acceptance of metric. World trade requires metric measure and our industries could not afford to keep inventories and equipment in two different scales. The cost is too high. In the United States all large, international industries are entirely in metric. Smaller companies which supply the export and domestic markets have to be equipped in both imperial and metric measures. As yet the American economy is strong enough to handle the cost but the change will have to be made. The U.S.A. is the only country of any importance which clings to imperial measure.

There was great reluctance in making this change. A group of witless members of parliament even went as far as buying a gas station in Ottawa to prove that Canada should keep one foot in the dark ages. While protesting vigorously about the change to a decimal system many could not remember how many feet or yards in a mile.

But wait, do not throw away the foot rule or yard stick yet. In a few years they will be museum pieces. Can you imagine the amused and skeptical look on the face of a third generation metric child being told by a curator that the small markings were inches, 12 of which made a foot and three feet made a yard. The curator would continue by telling the youngsters that people way back then thought it all quite simple and sensible.

Pic of the Past

Hockey in Haliburton, from the early 1900's to the present time, has had many outstanding teams and it would take many pages to record them and list the names of all the players. Among the many highlights of the hockey season in the early thirties were the hockey special trains which pulled out of Haliburton with several hundred hockey fans and the Haliburton Citizens Band bound for such communities as Lindsay, Omemee and Oshawa. The Haliburton Huskies hockey team shown in this photo taken in the early 1930's was only one of the many successful teams that came up through the years. This team, which played during what was known as the tournament years, won all the senior trophies in Victoria and Haliburton. Front row from the left: Pud Austin, Dick Logan, Ossie Gliddon, Ron Curry, Glen Dart. Back row from the left: George Woods, Don Dart, Lyle Lucas, Jim Iles, Gordon Watt, Berkeley Feir. anyone else if he were to ever sell the health spa) could gradually introduce more and more facilities and activities. The health spa could potentially develop over the course of time into a recreational complex larger and more environmentally damaging than even the health spa's present supporters would like to see.

Closely connected to the zoning problem is my fourth objection - the matter of traffic. There is already a substantial amount of boat traffic (both motorized and non-motorized) on Lake Kashagawigamog - especially on weekends. It is already difficult at times to navigate safely in the narrows immediately north of the bay in question.

Although the proposed health spa might not have an immediate influence on this problem, expanded commercial development in the future very definitely could. Traffic on Airport Road would also increase until sooner or later, what is now one of the most scenic country roads in the area could be transformed from a quiet residential drive to a well travelled access route.

My fifth and final objection to this proposal is that in addition to the potential size of this project (and its long term possible affect on water quality, boat and road traffic and the delicate commercial-residential balance), I wonder if it might lead the way to a different kind of development. I am not an environmental purist opposed to all types of development. We all need the economic boost this gives our area. Nor do I have any personal axe to grind with Mr. Blair. In fact, I think his creation of PineStone Inn and Country Club has been a tremendous asset to Haliburton County.

My concern here is that the very nature of this project could have a chain-reaction affect on the type of use made of this lake in the future as well as the amount of use.

Haliburton County has a unique character distinct from other tourist areas - the Kawarths or Muskoka for example. Part of our uniqueness is that we have thus far preserved the traditional family atmosphere and natural uncluttered appearance of our lakes through sensible bylaws and zoning procedures. My wife and I chose to settle here permanently for that very reason. Although it is very true that we are among the property owners most directly affected by this proposed zoning change, and thus most strongly motivated to oppose it, we are by no means the only people with our long-term best interests at stake. I'm sure there are others like us that live here or come back year after year to our many beautiful resorts and campgrounds that would like Haliburton County to retain this uniqueness. There is still ample room in Minden township or elsewhere in the county to establish an exclusive health spa if that's what the majority of taxpayers want. However, as far as Lake Kashagawigamog is concerned, I for one, would stand by the old cliché, "enough is enough".

Respectfully,
Glen Carter,

Bantams split a pair in all Ontario final

The Haliburton Bantams travelled to Teeswater last weekend to begin the All Ontario Championship finals. Their aim was to win at least one of the two games in order to get started on the right foot in the best of seven series, and they did just that.

The Saturday game was a clean affair with only nine minor penalties being called.

Haliburton winger Alan Rydman opened the scoring at 11:40 of the first period on a pass from Scott Russell. Teeswater scored at 2:46 of the first to tie it at one apiece. Teeswater scored again at 14:44 of the second period to go ahead by one.

Haliburton's Scott Russell tied it up at 11:49 after receiving a relay pass from Alan Rydman and Ron Perrin.

Teeswater took the lead again at 10:21 but Scott Russell tied it up at three apiece only 47 seconds later, assisted by Alan Rydman.

Erin Nicholls put the Huskies ahead by one at 4:34 of the second unassisted. Teeswater again tied it at 2:26 of the second and went ahead by one at 14:54 of the third.

Not to give up, the Huskies tied the game with only 4:04 remaining on a goal by Erin Nicholls assisted by Ron Perrin. Nicholls scored again at 1:51 to secure the win as the Huskies held on despite a rush by Teeswater in the dying seconds of the game.

Gavin McKnight played strongly for Haliburton. Final score was 6-5 for the Huskies.

The next day, Sunday, the players hit two posts and had two goals disallowed and were defeated 6-3 by Teeswater which included an empty net goal late in the game. Again Gavin McKnight played well and both the defensive and offensive units worked hard but the Teeswater team had their backs to the wall and came out ahead.

Score 6-5 for Huskies

The score at 14:38 of the second was 3-0 for Teeswater before Jeff Warburton scored at 12:44 to narrow the gap, assisted by Erin Nicholls and Scott Russell. Erin Nicholls reduced the deficit to one at 13:39 of the third period assisted by Scott Russell and Ron Perrin. Teeswater went ahead by two at 10:33 before Colin Hunter reduced the margin again to one, assisted by Jeff Warburton and Scott Russell. However, Teeswater scored again at 6:40 and added an empty net goal with one second left.

Haliburton's Bantam Bears have begun their house league championship playoff series against Apsley.

The series got underway Friday night at the Dysart arena and will continue this weekend.

Atoms come close, but lose

Haliburton's OMHA Atoms travelled to Newcastle last Thursday night to play the third game of their best of five series.

Both teams started slowly and there was no scoring until the first minute of the second period when Newcastle got on the board. They scored again with just two minutes left to take a two to zero lead after two periods.

At the start of the third period Derek Wilson connected with assists going to Greg Stamp and Jeff Black. Just two minutes later Newcastle scored to make it three to one. They added one more with just six seconds left in the game to make the final score 4-1.

Haliburton 9 Newcastle 3
On Friday night the local boys played an excellent game of hockey. They fell behind by one just two minutes into the game, but one minute later Derek Wilson connected on a pass from Greg Stamp, then Chris Greenfield scored unassisted from the point.

Newcastle then tied it up to end the period at two apiece.

In the second period Haliburton outscored Newcastle four to one. Derek Wilson scored first with Greg Stamp assisting. Stamp then scored himself with Jeff Black and Mike Billings drawing the assists. Jeff Black added one with assists from Derek Wilson and Reid Elstone. With just 10 seconds left in the period Derek Wilson took a pass on his own and worked his way down into Newcastle's zone to make it Haliburton 6, Newcastle 3.

In the third period Haliburton added three more markers. Greg Stamp opened the scoring with Derek Wilson and Jeff Black drawing the assists. Derek Wilson then scored with Greg Stamp and Jeff Black aiding in the goal. Mathew Williams then scored with Mike Billings and Jason Casey getting the assists. The whole team gave a one hundred percent effort to obtain this important win. With the series tied at two games each the local boys travelled to Newcastle for the fifth and deciding game of the series. Both teams worked very hard, with no scoring at all in the first two periods.

Newcastle scored at the 10 minute mark to give them a

A total of 40 minutes in penalties were called with Haliburton receiving 24 minutes.

The Huskies won the coin toss also for the fifth game and the home schedule is as follows: This Saturday night at 7:30 p.m., Sunday at 2:00 p.m. and Good Friday, April 5 at 8:00 p.m. The sixth game, if required, will be in Teeswater on April 7 and the seventh game in Haliburton on April 13 at 7:00 p.m. if required.

It costs a lot of money for away games and the team members say they sincerely appreciated the donations received from the following businesses and individuals: Curry Motors, Emmerson Lumber, Haliburton Lumber, Hawk River Construction, Cordell Interiors, Bob Mumford, Leonard Salvatori, Mike Easton, Bill Burden from the West Guilford Shopping Centre, Kennedy Surplus, Blacks Hardware and the MNR hockey team.

Thanks also are expressed to Minor Hockey for their usual 100 percent backing.

The boys anticipate playing their best in the next games and team supporters say they are sure that with a full arena of fans the Bantams will secure the Championship trophy.

The Haliburton Atoms outscored Newcastle on Friday night to force their best of five playoff series to a fifth game, but the local boys lost out in the final minutes despite their best effort.

crucial one goal lead. Just 50 seconds later Greg Stamp tied it up on a pass from Jeff Black, but that was to be it for the local boys. Strong goaltending by the Newcastle goalie shut the boys down. Newcastle added two more and with two minutes left Haliburton pulled their goalie but Newcastle scored in the open net to win the game four to one and the series three to two.

Although the Atoms lost they still are very much winners. They had an excellent season which started early last October. They played 38 games, winning 23, losing 14 and tying 1. Management say they would like to thank the players, the parents and the fans for the excellent year.

Haliburton's OMHA Atoms put up a valiant effort in their best of five series against Newcastle but lost out in the fifth and deciding game to bring their season to an end. Show here is some of the action from game four in Haliburton Friday night.

Surveyors win trophy in two straight games

Bishop and Wilson did it again. After a second place finish in regular season play they surged ahead in the playoff rounds to win the overall Haliburton men's league championship for the second consecutive year.

The victory was clinched Monday night with an easy 8-2 win over Emmerson Lumber which ended the series in two straight games. The surveyors did an excellent job of tying up Emmerson Lumber's top skaters, and that made all the difference.

Scott Hammond was the top shooter in Monday night's contest, netting a hat trick. But it was Rick Wood who got Bishop and Wilson on the road to a win as he potted two goals in the first period.

Wood's first came at 5:26 with help from Ed Davis, while the second was an unassisted effort with 38 seconds remaining in the opening frame.

Emmerson Lumber failed to penetrate the surveyors' defenses throughout the opening period, and managed to score only once during the second period, while Bishop and Wilson added three more.

Scott Hammond laid the ground work for his hat trick at 2:20 of the second period with help from Ken Riley. At 11:26 of the period Jim Burk put Emmerson Lumber on the board to make it 3-1 with help from Kim Emmerson and Gary Burch.

But Bishop and Wilson was unstoppable, adding three more goals before the period ended. Greg Bishop made it 4-1 with 6:18 to play in the frame, assisted by Rick Wood. With 2:27 showing on the clock Ken Riley tallied, assisted once again by Wood, and with 1:21 remaining Guy Ramsey teamed up with Luke Schell and Scott Hammond to make it 6-1 for the surveyors.

Emmerson Lumber was unable to make any significant headway against the fast skating, close checking game of Bishop and Wilson, but did add one more goal, at 4:19, off the stick of Pat Wilson, assisted by Kim Emmerson and Tom Curry.

Scott Hammond got his second goal of the night at 8:51 of the third period, assisted by Ed Davis, and with 4:20 left in the game Hammond completed the hat trick, assisted by Greg Bishop.

While Monday night's game brought league play to an end, the season will officially wind up this weekend as players from the four clubs get together for a party and trophy presentations.

Asters win series, playoffs begin

Asters won the third series of the Wednesday afternoon bowling league over the Forget-Me-Nots by three points. Next came Daisies, Petunias, Roses and Marigolds. Team winning total points for the year were the Daisies with 122 points.

Top average man was Harry Henderson, 192, and lady, Joan McKay, 212.

Games of 200 and over last Wednesday were bowled by: Ev Stata, 244, 255, 690 triple; Phyllis MacDuff, 220, 205, 201, 626 triple; Gord Everall, 241; Sandy Barr, 276, 236, 696 triple; Joan McKay, 207, 222, Mary Woodcock, 226, 261, 650 triple; Susan Titus, 206; Dorothy Baker, 217; Kay Barry, 222; Iris Meredith, 228; Wilbert Gibbs, 210; Harry Henderson, 204, 217, 600 triple; Audrey Fountain, 251; Muriel Peters, 230; Mima Burwood, 208; Caryl Harrison, 219.

Playoffs will take place for the next two weeks.

Gambell objects to Chamber

Organization should be phased out, reeve states

Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell lashed out against the local Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday, saying that public funding of the organization is merely "prolonging the agony."

Speaking in opposition to a grant of $54,000 to the Chamber in county council's 1985 budget, Gambell said he is dissatisfied with the way the Chamber is managed and with its board of directors, some of whom refuse to speak to him, he said.

"I think the sooner it's disbanded the better," Gambell said, "You're only going to prolong the agony if you fund the Chamber again."

Gambell's opposition to the Chamber came to a head last summer when he resigned as one of two county council representatives on the organization. He has since remained silent about the Chamber at county council meeting, but noted last Wednesday that he had determined to speak out about his convictions.

County council cut back its grant to the Chamber by $6000 in the 1985 budget, but contributed an additional $15,000 to the construction of a new office building on Highway 35.

Stanhope reeve Harry Davis wondered about the economic impact the county would feel if Gambell's suggestion that the Chamber be disbanded was followed through, but the Lutterworth reeve felt the consequences would not be significant.

Stanhope deputy reeve Elgin Stouffer challenged Gambell to spell out alternatives to the present Chamber.

Gambell noted that a number of tourist promotion groups already operate in the county. He cited the new 'Scenic Highway 35 Committee' as an example.

"Maybe we could turn it over to them," Gambell said, "There are lots of alternatives. We're not locked into only one."

Bicroft reeve Bill Howe said he had been opposed to the Chamber previously, but was now satisfied with the direction the organization is taking in targeting the bulk of its promotional efforts to areas outside the county. Howe suggested everyone in the county should "pull together, not apart," noting that "if we are continuing in this council to bash one another, it doesn't look good."

Cardiff deputy reeve Ross Duncan noted that he too had been opposed to the level of funding the county had been providing the Chamber, but was satisfied with the $6000 grant reduction between 1984 and 1985.

Gambell was not persuaded by any counter arguments, however. He said the problem with the Chamber "is not going to solve itself."

"Some of the directors don't even go to the meetings," he said, adding that some of them also "have nothing to say."

"I want you to show in the records I'll have nothing to do with it," he told warden Dalton MacDonald.

Gambell registered the only 'nay' vote to the 1985 county budget on the basis of the $54,000 grant to the Chamber.

County receives 12 tenders for bridge

A total of 12 tenders were received for construction of a new bridge to span the Ingoldsby narrows, County Engineer Bill Obee told county council last week.

Prices in the tenders ranged from a low of $399,877 to a high of more than $567,000.

Contract for the bridge has been awarded to R.T. Grills Construction, the lowest bidder.

A total of 18 construction companies were invited to tender on the bridge, which will replace the existing one lane steel structure.

The 11 unsuccessful bidders were W.G. Kelly Construction, $436,200; Arnott Construction Ltd., $445,761; John Gaffney Construction Co. Ltd., $466,991; Mel Ron Construction Ltd., $498,740; Looby Ltd., $512,987; B.D.S. Limited, $533,070; Miller Paving Ltd., $542,180; Gryan Construction, $550,269; G.E. Crandell Construction Ltd., $552,025; Maple Engineering and Construction Co. Ltd., $555,355; and Dilsa Construction and Engineering Ltd., $567,225.

Minden asked to fix playground

Municipal Report

At a meeting March 14, Anson, Hindon and Minden council considered the following matters:

Bruce Nesbitt attended before council to express his concern over the additional distance he would have to travel to and from the Ingoldsby Dump which he maintains, once the Ingoldsby bridge has been closed for reconstruction. The Waste Management Committee of council will consider this request in its 1985 operating estimates.

Carol Miles and Marg Graham, representing the Minden Nursery F y Group, made a submission to council concerning the condition of the downtown playground. They requested that a layer of sand be placed under all swings and both ends of the slide and ladder, and that all exposed nails be pounded over. They recommended the installation of additional streetlights in this area to serve as a deterrent to vandals. They suggested that the municipality erect signs on the main street informing the public of the playground location. It was also suggested that the playground be formally named and dedicated to someone from the community who has made significant contributions to child development. The name "Warder Park" was offered, in honour of Ernie Warder.

Policy No. 42, as amended, a policy to regulate the procedures for hiring municipal employees, was adopted.

Policy No. 44, a policy to regulate the hiring of equipment, also was adopted.

Paragraph 2 (Development proposal, Lot 30, Concession 6, Township of Minden) of the Planning Advisory Committee minutes of February 21, 1985, was adopted, provided that site plan controls are adopted for this development according to Section 40(2) of the Planning Act.

Bill Reid was authorized to attend the OGRA Grader Operating Course at Sheridan College from May 27 to May 30, 1985, at a cost of $350 and the terms of Policy No. 4 shall apply.

All minor tax balances, listed on Schedule "A" were written off in the total amount of $6.82.

The following accounts were approved for payment: General, $72,657.01; Water, $13,593.04; and Sewer, $14,717.31.

February, 1985 road accounts were approved for payment in the amount of $25,205.86.

Alex Little attended council to protest any proposed closure of the Concession allowance leading from the Blairhampton Road to Soyers Lake between Lots 25, Concessions 8 and 9, in the Township of Minden. He reminded council of a verbal commitment made in 1982 to keep this allowance open in response to a petition from many of the area property owners. Little pointed out that this is the only open concession left on the west side of Soyers Lake. Council agreed to draw Little's concerns to its solicitor's attention, and to keep him informed of further proposals concerning this allowance.

Sap's running

Somewhere along the way, I must have mentioned that my Grandpa had a sugarbush. At the time, I was curious about it, but that was one place he never volunteered to take me. He was most particular about it. Probably because he was taking his syrup to market, and didn't want any amateurs messing around with it.

I do remember Grandma's maple dumplings, and the early morning smell of syrup being heated for pancakes. And I recall, when I asked Grandpa why they called it a sugarbush when what they made was syrup, being handed a small cake of maple sugar shaped like the good old maple leaf. I can only assume that he had the best, most modern equipment that 1951 had to offer. He prided himself on his light coloured syrup that brought him top dollar at the market.

Here, on the Tonarosa, our operation is a bit more primitive. Back to basics, you might say. We're into our fourth year of syrup making, and except for Ed's usual gadgetry, there have been few modern improvements.

The first year, we got into it just as a lark. Ed and Morris had a lot of semi-serious chats in the basement that winter, about the good old days, and somewhere along the way, they got into a deep discussion about syrup making. Morris let on as to how he hadn't done it in a long time, and he wished he could do it again. Ed doesn't need too much encouragement to get him going, so before you know it, they were digging out the old sap buckets from the rafters of Morris' garage, and we were literally up to our elbows scrubbing them out. Then there was the long hunt for the spiles, which, I believe, finally turned up on the famous work bench.

One of Ed's first projects was to construct more spiles out of plastic tubing. The next job was to Residents mark St. Patrick's day

Senior League

by Bert Harrison at Hyland Crest

Dear readers, another week has come and gone since I last penned a line to you. To tell you what has been happening here I'll see what I can do.

There is always a nice service in the chapel Sunday night where everyone takes their part. When Rev. Burgess speaks, he speaks right from the heart.

On Monday we celebrated St. Patrick's Day. We would like to pay tribute to the Robertson sisters, who worked so hard to make it a gala day. Hats and costumes for the residents to wear were on display. They are always thinking of something to keep us entertained, and ever counting the cost. If they ever left us we surely would be lost.

To get back to our St. Patrick's celebration, we had contests galore, treasure hunts, guessing games, then Doris played and we sang some good old Irish songs. What could we ask for more?

I haven't told you about our office staff for quite some time. I will tell you about them today. Arlene Wright has been very busy while Olive Hamilton has been away, but she can take it. No matter what the problem is, she will find or make it. There is Heidi Hutchinson whom we just call Heidi. She comes nights and some weekends, to keep things nice and tidy. Then Ada Lewis when it comes her turn, to keep things right up to date, is her real concern. And last, but not least is our supervisor, Sydney Brown; to keep things running smoothly he makes his daily rounds.

It is nice to have Mrs. Havery back with us again. She has been in the hospital since we don't remember when.

Mrs. Gilbank has come to live at Hyland Crest. We hope she'll like it here.

Rev. Westhaver of Minden United Church conducted a very impressive service on March 19. His message was the three crosses. We thank him for coming and Mary Rose for coming the music to play.

Doris showed us movies Tuesday afternoon.

We have Atta Brintnell come to live in our lovely home. We hope she will like it, and never need roam.

Wednesday noon members of county council came to Hyland Crest, to enjoy lunch and be our special guest.

Our entertainers came to us on Tuesday night. They played and sang so lovely for us. It was a real delight, and we look forward when they come back to us again.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of Lutterworth Estates brought a lunch which was just great. They also brought along a gentleman, Fred Parker. He was a real good help in serving. Then Doris played for a good sing-along, which was really fine. So altogether we had a jolly time. We would like to thank

Mr. and Mrs. Nye for coming to call the bingo numbers Thursday night. Some of the players did alright. Millie Wood won five bingos, Mary Oliver won eight.

Friday afternoon we thanked Grace Coburn who came to lead us in a sing-along, with Jean Cox playing the music.

On starting business

Did you know... that our office has information for people who are interested in starting a small business in Ontario?

Almost everyone at some time in their life has thought about starting a business. The independence it would bring...the thought of being your own boss...the prospect of making a profit on products or services sold, in addition to your salary...the idea of being the key decision maker...the freedom from routine. All of these are powerful motivating factors.

The Ministry of Industry, an Trade has prepared a book which outlines how to start your own business properly and what programs are available once you get going. It examines the approach to business, financing, business aids, licences, regulations, registrations, taxation and much more.

To obtain this publication free of charge, drop in to your County Information Centre or give us a call at 457-2733. Our office is located in the Drag River Municipal Building (across from Emmerson Lumber) in Haliburton and we are open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Theatre group rehearses Wilde play

The Highlands Little Theatre group is gearing up for its spring production of 'The Importance of Being Earnest'.

The local theatre group will open its sixth season with this masterpiece of brilliant comedy by Oscar Wilde. 'Earnest' is perhaps the most famous of all the modern 'artificial' comedies. It revolves gaily and wittily around the most ingenious case of 'manufactured' mistaken identity ever put into a play. The chief plot element is the invention of a mythical character by a young man who wants to put off his own shortcomings on someone else. Two dashing young 'men-about-town' and two young ladies who are both properly brought up in the manner of the turn of the century, provide the main story line which then abruptly turns to include a very straight-laced Canon and a love-lorn Governess. All this is very properly supervised by that classic Matriarch, Lady Bracknell. The play has a level of humour and charm rarely seen in the current theatre.

Director Caryl Douglas has been putting the cast through its paces twice a week at the Dysart arena.

The play will open May 9 and continue through May 11 at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

ABOUT BUYING A CARRIER HEAT PUMP

This winter is your last chance for a grant of up to $800 when you buy and install a Carrier Heat Pump or highly efficient Carrier Gas Furnace. It's all because on March 31, 1985, the Federal Government is ending its Off-Oil grant program.

You could also be eligible for a Carrier factory rebate of up to $275* when you purchase and install a Carrier Total Comfort System before March 31, 1985.

So take advantage of the last days of the up to $800 government grant and Carrier's factory rebate offer by installing a Carrier Heat Pump or Gas Furnace before March 31, 1985.

Dog named to Hall of Fame

Spook, a poodle/terrier owned by John and Brenda McAdam of Big Hawk Lake, has been inducted into the Purina Animal Hall of Fame.

The award was presented last Thursday at the Sportsmen's Show in Toronto.

Spook's keen hearing and persistence are credited with helping to save a life by attracting attention to the plight of a snowmobiler, friend and neighbour Bill McKay whose machine had plunged into deep open water on the lake when he became disoriented by blowing snow and the dark night. The near-tragedy happened in early March 1984 near the Big Hawk Lake Landing Marina of John McAdam and his wife Brenda.

McAdam, his wife and his mother were watching television and heard nothing except the strong wind blowing in noisy gusts with thick drifting snow. No one heard Bill McKay's cries for help... except McAdam's dog, Spook. The small dog kept agitating first at the window, then the door, until his master put on his boots and outdoor wear and took Spook out to investigate. It was only when he started walking outside that he heard Bill McKay calling, struggling in the deep water, hampered by heavy water-soaked winter gear and unable to reach ice thick enough to hold him.

McAdam rushed to get a rope, then crawled out on the ice to within 15 feet of McKay. He tossed one end of the rope to the struggling man and pulled him towards shore. McKay crawled toward

John McAdam and 'Spook'

McAdam, who had to keep warning him not to stop and rest.

The two men reached shore just as several members of the Stanhope Fire Department arrived. Bill McKay was taken into the marina store and kept warm until an ambulance arrived to take him to hospital for observation.

The Big Hawk Lake/Hall's Lake Property Owners Association later presented both John McAdam and Spook with awards.

A big thank you to Lorna Hicks for spending the last ten days at the Sportsmen's Show on behalf of this Chamber and the County of Haliburton. It's a very tiresome job being available from 10:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. every day in the demanding position at our booth. We appreciate it Lorna. We also had several members spend their time at the booth on a volunteer basis. Hats off to Rob and Susan Clark, Syd and Lois Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Levesque, Mark Scott, Tom Ecclestone, Steve Lacey, Marg and Mitch Kennedy, Les and Carol Feero. You've offered tremendous support. Thank you.

As announced in this paper some weeks ago, the Chamber of Commerce is attempting to bring a LEAD program to the county. This program is presently in the developmental stage with research being done to determine if, how, and when the project might be applied for. Andy Campbell, project researcher, needs a board of directors from the community to assist in the affairs of the program. If you have expertise in any field of business, and would like to see a LEAD project in Haliburton County, please volunteer your time. There is an ad in this paper with more information.

Reader backs Murray Fearrey for nomination Letters

To The Editor:

The Melville Millionaires in conjunction with the Saskatchewan Heritage Year, are sponsoring the Melville Millionaires Reunion, August 2, 3, and 4, 1985, in the Melville Stadium.

The Reunion includes players from 1908-1985, who played either Senior, Intermediate or Junior Hockey with the Melville Millionaires. Also any coaches, executive, trainers, stick boys, team doctors, Millionaire Queens, or anyone who has billeted a Millionaire hockey player.

We are asking you, the readers, if you would kindly forward us information concerning the above such as names and addresses. We truly don't want to miss anyone so your co-operation would be truly appreciated. Pass this information to your friends, maybe they know of someone. We are hoping to be mailing invitations out in the next two weeks. So we urgently require this information shortly so our mailing lists can be completed.

Please forward information to the Millionaire Reunion Committee, Box 2197, Melville, Sask. S0A 2P0, or phone Glenda at 728-4205. Area Code 306.

Sincerely,

The Melville Millionaire Reunion Committee
Melville, Saskatchewan

To The Editor:

I am very pleased to find that Murray Fearrey has tossed his hat in the ring for Member of Parliament for Victoria and Haliburton Counties. He is a man with vast knowledge of both Municipal and County affairs; and has had a lot of dealings with Queen's Park in the past.

I've known Murray Fearrey since he came into Haliburton Lumber company as a very young man. I've sent, over the years, a number of people to Mr. Fearrey's business to purchase material for cottages and permanent homes. I was talking to a man yesterday (Sunday) who I sent to him, who figures he has spent at least $30,000 for a beautiful big home he is building. He has nothing but the very best to say about Murray Fearrey. Checking back with a number of people whom I have referred to Mr. Fearrey's business, I have received nothing but the best references. I personally class him as an honest, upright citizen, one whom the public should be able to trust to carry the banner for Victoria and Haliburton Counties.

Yours truly,
Bruce Nesbitt

Obituary: H. Laverne Cruikshanks

Funeral services were held March 13 for H. Laverne Cruikshanks, 57, of 85 First Avenue, Trenton, who died at Belleville General Hospital March 10. The service was conducted from the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, Minden, with Padre Frank Walker, of CFB Trenton officiating.

Son of the late Raymond and Francis (Maymie) Cruikshanks, he was predeceased by brothers Irwin and James. Surviving besides his wife Eileen are daughters, Karren of Burlington, Bonnie (Mrs. J. Badyk) of Calgary, Janet (Mrs. R. Borland) of Burlington and granddaughter Bailey Borland. He was the brother of Irene Bailey, Royce, Pearl Kernohan, Thelma Tough, Carol Bradimore, Sherman, Frank and Gladys. Many nieces and nephews also survive.

Major Cruikshanks retired after 31 years of service as an air traffic control officer with the RCAF and the CAF. He was involved for many years with young people in hockey and softball and following his retirement from the CAF, was active in the Air Cadet organization. He was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 129, Haliburton.

A memorial service was held March 12, at the funeral home, under the auspices of the Royal Canadian Legion, Haliburton. Pallbearers were Clark Bailey, Gerald Kernohan, Rob Cruikshanks, Don Cruikshanks, Jeff Tough and Jeff Musson.

Obituary:

Walter Klapow

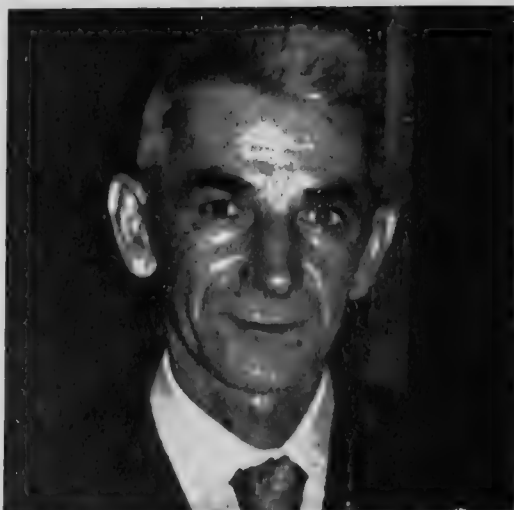

Funeral services were held Monday for one of Wilberforce's leading citizens. Walter Klapow died suddenly on Friday, March 22 at his home. He was 68.

Walter Klapow was born in Montreal of Polish immigrant parents. In 1950 he moved to Wilberforce, where he established a sawing and planing mill on property purchased from William Bowers Sr. Over the years the company grew and diversified, employed between six and 10 men to produce dimension lumber, pallets, railway ties and structural components for furniture. In August 1974 the original mill was destroyed by fire, but it was rebuilt the following year and continues to operate.

The late Walter Klapow served as fire chief of Monmouth Township in 1974, but his main interest was in the Royal Canadian Legion. During the Second World War he was a member of the Royal Canadian Navy volunteer reserve. When a Legion branch was formed in Wilberforce he took on the job of secretary.

Following the purchase of the Legion hall he donated a great deal of time and material toward renovation of the building. One of his fund raising schemes was the organizing of a fiddle and step dance contest that was a popular summer event in the community for a number of years.

He became interested in a program for school children that was being sponsored by the Royal Canadian Legion Zone 5 in which a selection was made of the finest essays and poems submitted, containing material to be used for the November 11 Remembrance Day service. He became Youth Education Chairman and later was named Representative Chairman for Zone 5 of the Legion. In this capacity he visited many Ontario schools to present awards to the students.

He attended all Drum Head services, parades and functions of other Legion branches in Zone 5 and also travelled across Canada to attend Legion Dominion conventions, doing so at his own expense.

In July of 1976 Walter Klapow was awarded a service medal for outstanding time and effort donated to the Legion. He has since received other medals for his untiring devotion to Legion work.

He is survived by his wife Lucille, sons Robert and Wayne, of Wilberforce, and daughter Suzanne (Mrs. Howard Anderson) of Tory Hill. He had six grandchildren.

He was predeceased by a brother, Jack, of Oshawa, and a sister, Helen, of Detroit.

Funeral services were held Monday at South Wilberforce Church.

Skaters put on a fine show

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

A skating carnival at the local rink presents an opportunity to find out just what our youngsters have achieved after all those winter months of attendance. It brings excitement and happy memories for those taking part as they glide onto the ice in their colourful costumes and try to remember the routine. No matter how skillful the older members have become it is always the little tykes who are best appreciated. They have the sympathy of the crowd with every fall and misstep. This year's presentation of 'Melodies on Ice' was a night of fun. The show stealer was a three year old boy at the tail end of the performers. He showed a great agility on skates and returned for an encore, smiling and waving to the people. It looks like the start of a great career.

Judy Barras, skating instructor, had put together a good program of interesting skits. A guest skater, Werna Blakey from Minden, gave a quality performance. The children, mostly girls with a few boys, seemed to really enjoy the experience and did remarkably well with the routines. Many of the older girls showed developing talent. Kathy Walsh has grace and agility that would warrant further instruction. An added attraction would be dance pairs if the older boys would consider staying with the club. To members of the executive and to parents who made it all possible, thank you for this evening of entertainment.

Margaret Harrison tells us of a March meeting of the Wilberforce UCW that was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Clarence Bradley.

The devotional was ably taken by Mrs. Norma Noble on the theme "Love". The message was a vivid portrayal with words and song of the Love of our Heavenly Father who gave His only Son. All the problems of the world could be solved with love.

Plans are complete for the bake sale table at the Maple Syrup Festival to be held at the Lloyd Watson Centre on April 6, at 10 a.m. Plans are underway for the group's annual strawberry supper at the Watson Centre on June 29, an evening looked forward to by community residents and holidayers alike. The meeting closed with all joining in the chorus "Bind us Together in Love" and the Mizpah Benediction.

The second annual Firefighters Bonspiel took place over the weekend at the Wilberforce Curling Rink. A good attendance was recorded and everyone had a great time. Some of the results are: first place to Gooderham with Ron Barr as skip, second place to Martin Lumber with Chuck Lindsay skipping and third place to Apsley with skip Gary McGinn. A fourth place was taken by Haliburton with skip Wilson and his rink.

A Legion funeral service was held in the United Church in Wilberforce on March 24 to pay tribute to the memory of Walter Klapow who died suddenly last week. Walter has recently conducted several Legion services for his departed comrades. His death comes as a shock to the community.

Walter operated the Wilberforce Planing Mill and is remembered by his employees as a good boss. He tried several types of work before building the Planing Mill and always put a great deal of drive into his endeavours. His main interest was the Royal Canadian Legion. He joined the Wilberforce Branch in its early years and has continued to offer support and to sponsor programs for the betterment of the association.

We can ill afford to lose such a citizen. The sympathy of the community is extended to his wife Lucille and members of the family.

The Country Goodies Shop, across the highway from the fire hall, that had previously been operating as a take out restaurant, a craft shop and a bakery outlet, has been closed through the winter complete overhaul and an addition to the building plus washrooms owners Eva Linkert and Flo Oram are ready to open. They will be ready to serve you on Saturday at 10 a.m. At the back of the building is a bake shop that will supply daily fresh baking for the new restaurant. A new feature is an eating section that will accommodate up to 32 people. Later on, flyers will be circulated with details of the grand opening which takes place on April 5. Good luck to the owners of this new business. This Saturday, March 30 come in and look around.

Of historical value is the mention of a present day calamity when deep despair gripped our male population. It will long be remembered that all of Ontario was threatened with the death of all social functions, with communities sinking into bankruptcy, terrible loss of funds to the Provincial coffers, never ending thirst, no more of the boys "Keep on getting together", no more great TV commercials, the end of amateur sports. The only good thing to come out of this being a great friendship that developed with our neighbours in Quebec. Thank goodness the time of deprivation is over. Relax and enjoy, the big beer strike of March 1985 is over.

Hockey season ends with the Monmouth Cup Hockey Tournament held Saturday, March 23. Here are the scores: The Tykes - Haliburton 7, Wilberforce 1. Atoms - Wilberforce 3, Haliburton 0. Pee Wees - Wilberforce 4, Haliburton 2. Bantams - Apsley 7, Wilberforce 5.

HELP BREAK THE PATTERN OF POVERTY

The joint brief urges a Royal Commission to look at all aspects of Ontario education, rather than the piecemeal way in which the separate school policy is being implemented. "We're talking about the future of our children and our students," said Mary Hill, OPSTF president. "That's important enough, surely, to justify three or four years to make sure we are doing this right."

The three teacher organizations, OSSTF, FWTAO and the OPSTF, represent more than three-quarters of the public school teachers in Ontario. The two trustee organizations represent an equally large proportion of the public school boards in Ontario.

The hearing at Toronto's Ontario Institute for Studies in Education marked the final day of public hearings which began last November at Queen's Park. The Planning and Implementation Commission, which received close to 200 briefs or presentations from groups or individuals all across the province, is responsible for advising the government on how it should proceed with its plans to extend public funding to separate secondary school grades, beginning this September.

Guilford News

by Elinor Cooper

Don and Betty Cooper and Betty's sister, Karen Talbot of Woodstock were guests of Mrs. Stan Cooper on the weekend.

Ron and Erma Sisson were visitors at Iris Gibbon's in Toronto last week.

Congratulations to Doreen and Russell Sisson on the birth of their fourth daughter. All is reported to be well with the healthy nine pound, one ounce newborn born on March 20.

Several Eagle Lake and West Guilford people attended the excellent musical presentation by the Glad Tidings group on Sunday evening at Zion United Church in Carnarvon. The group led the audience in old and new gospel favourites, sang several trios, and played their several instruments with evident skill and enjoyment. Thanks to Jack Mavor for organizing such refreshing and inspiring entertainment.

Alan Cooper, who is attending McMaster University, is part of the Mac Choir which is going to Orlando, Florida this week to compete in a choir festival.

Skaters perform

The Monmouth Figure Skating Club staged their annual show on Saturday night at the arena in Wilberforce, and a large contingent of parents and friends were on hand to lend their support.

The show, entitled 'Melodies on Ice', featured a total of 16 numbers, many based on popular music and others on traditional songs and Broadway tunes.

Guest skater for the evening was Warna Blakey of the Minden Figure Skating Club who put on an impressive performance with graceful spins and flawless jumps.

Monmouth club instructor Judy Barras had a busy night organizing the youngsters for their numbers and ensuring that all ran smoothly. Master of Ceremonies Ken Sanderson handled the microphone duties and kept the audience entertained between the various performances.

Among the Monmouth club members who took part in the show were: Erica Simpson, Charlene Sutherland, Kevin Jordens, Maren Barnes, Kenny Ablett, Marsha Sutherland, Susie Mumford, Angela St. Cyr, Meghann Agnew, Kerry Footitt, Mandy McCracken, Kathy Walsh, Tricia Atkinson, ReNee Casey, May-Anne Jordens, Karen Chatterton, Jodi Barker, Marsie Jordens, Sherry-Lynn Hudder, Cherie Tremblett, Paul Simpson, Luke Barker, Jackie Footitt, Jennifer Dunsford, Jennifer Coumbs, Jenny Hughey, Susie Mumford, Barb Taylor, Cindy Smith, Shona Packard, and Julie Bowen.

Coboconk News

by Shiela Lake

The many concerned citizens of Coby have wondered about the future of the old VicPly property and the latest word is that the businessmen of town have bought the property and will now concentrate on creating new business and a means of boosting the local economy. We wish them all the best and trust that the empty stores on main street will all be occupied as well. They have a big job ahead of them, for sure. Let's all pray that this new venture is very, very successful.

Have you been lucky enough to escape that virus that is going? Cora Lake and Lily Smith are two people who have been very, very ill.

Some of our sick folks are now at home convalescing. Millie Routley is home. Ethel Farrow came home on Wednesday, her husband's 81st birthday. Martha Bartley was to be home this weekend after her surgery in Toronto recently. I trust that you people will continue to improve.

Winners in the last two weeks' seniors card games held in Coboconk Community Hall on Tuesday nights are as follows: March 12, Euchre - ladies' first, Laura Irvine, 78; second, Annie Watson, 72; most lone hands, Laura Irvine, 5; consolation, Tina Mohr, 37. Sandford Richman enjoyed his 88th birthday celebration on March 10 by having daughter Wilahmine and husband Herb Fell from Coldwater, granddaughter Sandra and husband Dr.

Haamathy and their little girl, Jenny from Ottawa and granddaughter Sherry and husband, Mark Missis from Orillia.

Our daughter Heather and husband Clinton Hirstwood had a birthday party for little Megan who turned one on March 17. Bob, Marilyn, and kids Robert and Sharon Lake of Stroud, yours truly and hubby, Carolyn Strong of Buller Road, Norland, and Nancy Hirstwood of Scarborough all enjoyed a birthday dinner with Heather and Clint and family. On Friday, Heather and Clint and Christopher journeyed to Toronto to take in the Sportsmen's Show.

Keitha and Klaus White of Cannington were visitors at our house on Friday, and on Thursday, Danny Shell of Verlum had lunch with us.

Everette and Jessie Cameron were business visitors to Toronto on Wednesday.

Robins serenade us with their happy songs each morning, and we are sure spring must surely be on its way.

If you heard a big noisy thud on Friday it is just the dynamite crew in the quarry, loosening more rocks. I hope you will not be alarmed because the blasts will likely become more frequent.

Several bank staff attended a bank meeting in Lindsay on Wednesday night.

I journeyed to Haliburton on Tuesday and attended the Avon meeting at the Legion hall. Later, I dropped in the feed store there and purchased a couple of items from John Burgess who is now adding meats and bulk food to his grains and seeds business. The smoked bacon was good, John.

To anyone reading this column, Faith Tabernacle will be holding the annual Good Friday rally and you are invited to attend. There will be supper supplied in the church basement. Do come and enjoy the special speakers and join in this time of worship.

Sympathy goes out to the LaPointe family in the passing of their wife and mother at Head Lake last week.

Ron and Linda Nesbitt and family of Port Stanley-St. Thomas were visitors of St. F. Nesbitt last weekend.

Corporal Randy Peacock, 23, reaches the top after scaling a 70 foot cliff, which he then rappelled down, as part of a Canadian/American joint training exercise held recently in Bavaria. The next day he and all qualified parachute personnel participated in an airborne operation; making three jumps from a U.S. helicopter. Cpl Peacock is a field engineer with 4 Combat Engineer Regiment, stationed at Canadian Forces Base Lahr, as part of Canada's NATO Forces in Europe. He is the son of Ralph and Eleanor Young, of Lochlin.

A memorable trip

Norland News

by Kelly Graham

Hi. I hope you all had a great March break. I know I did. Twenty-two students, including myself and two teachers enjoyed a nine day trip in London, England. We departed on March 8 and returned on March 17. The days in between were a whirlwind of sightseeing, dancing, eating out, and of course making lots of new friends. The weather was beautiful but not as beautiful as the city itself. I know it was a trip I'll never forget.

On Sunday, March 17 Helen and Alec Graham, of Norland, celebrated 40 years of marital bliss. A family get-together was held, with many things to celebrate. Aside from their anniversary it was also Helen's birthday and of course it was St. Patrick's Day, a rather special holiday for a family with strong Irish roots. Attending the party were Koli and Alma Graham of British Columbia.

Some folks believe in winding down and relaxing after a party but not this group; the morning after the party Koli and Alma, Ruth and Rudy Janke, and Francis Gunn left on a two week trip to Florida. Have a great time, guys.

The winner of the hockey pool last week was Valerie Greer. I'd like to take this opportunity to mention that Valerie is the one who lets me know the hockey pool winner each week. Thanks a lot Valerie and congratulations on your win.

Unfortunately the euchre and bridge scores were not available this week.

Congratulations to June Cooper of Coboconk, who was the lucky winner of the Norland Public School's Care Bear draw.

A Commodore 64 computer, monitor and printer have been ordered for Norland Public School.

Anglican minister honoured

Kinmount Korner

by Millie Moss

Congratulations to Len Pizze upon becoming the new owner of the Haliburton County Echo along with his job as Editor. Here's to you Len and many years of success and happiness in your enterprise.

We are officially into spring - beautiful - come on summer.

Bill and I enjoyed our 44th anniversary by having Helen and Alex Graham who celebrated their 40th on St. Patrick's Day, my mom, Mary L. Pyke and John, all of Norland, over to our house for the afternoon.

Results of St. James euchar party Tuesday, March 19 are: ladies' high, Violet Schroeter; ladies' low, Bertha Stata; men's high, Maggie Kylie; men's low, Ruby Schell and lone hands, Ambrose Watson.

Congratulations to Jane and Wayne Rolfe upon the birth of their son on Saturday, March 16. Happy big sisters are Zoie and Jennie.

Our Anglican Church pastor, Father Brooks will be leaving us in late April and we wish him well in whatever his undertaking. A pot luck supper will be held in his honour on Friday, March 29 at 6:00 p.m. at the Kinmount Community Hall. Everyone is most cordially invited to attend. Bring something along with you to add to pot luck. I hope to see you there.

Happy birthday to Elizabeth Fryer in Norland.

We are sorry to report at this time that David Crichton is ill, in Ross Memorial Hospital. Get well soon, Dave. Gertie and all the rest of us would like to see you home. You get feeling better too, Gertie, spring has sprung and very soon now your flowers will want your attention.

Our sympathy at this time goes out to Vina McGinnis of Norland and Goldie McGinnis of Coboconk in the death of a dear sister and aunt.

Sympathy also to the Int Veen family on the death of Margaret's father, Stan Hayward.

Results of Galway Wednesday night euchre: ladies' high, Roberta Welsh; ladies' low, Marie Thayer; men's high, Leon Wright; men's low, Tom Yates; most lone hands, Mitzi Alzner and Ruth Menard.

Happy anniversary to Colleen and Carl Burns.

Sympathy to Ernie, Russell and Lyle Anderson, their sister Ethel Lane of Arthur, all family and friends of Annie G. Whatley who died in Haliburton Hospital on Wednesday, March 20 in her 79th year.

The Kinmount Gymnasts in conjunction with the Kinmount and Burnt River Schools have entered in the 12th annual Victoria County Elementary Schools' Girls' Gymnastic Meet to be held Saturday, April 20, at I.E. Weldon Secondary School gymnasium, Lindsay. This is the first time any of the Northern Schools have participated in an event of this nature. The girls have been training for weeks, twice a week, and practised hard at home to prepare themselves.

Since they have never had the opportunity to perform in front of an audience, it is important that the community gives them a chance to do so. Therefore a workout and dress rehearsal has been planned for Sunday, March 31 from 2:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Kinmount Community Hall. Your support at this rehearsal and later at the big event in Lindsay would be greatly appreciated. Your child or grandchild could well be on next year's team.

The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 441, Kinmount, held their Public Speaking Competition for the students of Kinmount Public School on March 18 at the Kinmount Legion Hall. In the Junior category winners were: first, Jill Dettman with her topic being "trains, past and present". Second, Julie Austin speaking of "Senior Citizens" and third, Zoie Rolfe who spoke of the "Metro Toronto Zoo". In the Senior category, Sheri Magee took first place in her oratory on "Bilingualism". Jane Austin was second, speaking of "Canada" and third, Glenda Martin who spoke about "High School". The first place winners will continue on to Fenelon Falls Legion, Branch 238 in the Zone finals on March 24. I'm told all the girls are to be congratulated as it was a hard job to pick a winner. A poster contest was also held and the final results are: first, Sara Lee Henderson; second, Sheri Magee and third, Jane Austin.

The Science Fair was held on Wednesday, March 20, the judge being Guy Scott. Winners in the Junior category were Jenny Bunville and Michelle Lowe with first place going to Sara Lee Henderson and Christina Fountain in the Senior category. Other participants were Jennifer McBride and Jill Dettman, Zoie Rolfe, Kenneth Barry and Jason Scarlett and Dan Swinson in the Junior division. Others in the Seniors were Jane and Julie Austin, Sheri Magee and Glenda Martin, Kim Bennett and Robin Magee.

Thanks to the secretary of Norland Public School for sending me a copy of your school newsletter. A professional activity day for the county schools has been designated as an interview day between teachers and parents on Friday, March 29. Call your child's teacher for an interview. Don't forget, if you have a child who will be entering Kindergarten in September, his or her immunization must be up to date and a tuberculin skin test is also recommended prior to school entry. You must have written proof of immunization from your doctor. The only exemptions are for medical or religious grounds. For further information the school nurse, Carol Aird, can be reached at 324-3569. Kindergarten registration for September will be held Wednesday, March 27 from 9:30 to 11:30.

Mrs. Penfold's primary gymnastic girls are practising each week after school and Brian Morton, grade 8, was chosen as the February bus patroller of the month for the county.

Get well from your bad cold soon, Win Wilson.

Thanks to you folks who have phoned recently, asking after my health. I'll be over to see you one day soon, Mrs. Williamson. Thanks too, to Bill Wilson who stopped by one afternoon last week.

Stay well and happy, read the Echo, call me at 488-2353 and remember, good examples have twice the value of good advice.

Vacationers return

Welcome home to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Corliss from their Florida vacation and to Mr. and Mrs. Richie Harrison who were on an extended bus trip through several of the United States.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Wes Clark has been transferred from Haliburton Hospital back to Toronto Western, where he is to undergo surgery. We send him our best wishes and prayers for his comfort.

The Glad Tiding Gospel Singers program of music on Sunday evening was a great success with the church being packed. Many thanks for the music, fellowship and fine voices under the direction of Jack Mavor.

Mr. and Mrs. Max McKay spent a few days in Peterborough and Mrs. Bill McKay and Greg were in Toronto.

The movie being shown at the Haliburton County Home

Support Services on March 26 is 'Barefoot in the Park', from 1:15 to 4:00 and on Wednesday, March 27 there will be instruction in photography by Derry Wilford.

Management course held

Ag. Report

The final session of a very successful Pasture Management Short Course for farmers in Victoria and Peterborough Counties was held last Thursday. Over 20 participants successfully completed the course and received certificates from Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology, the course sponsors, in co-operation with the Lindsay and Peterborough Agricultural Offices.

The special speaker at the last session was Dr. Ann Clark, from the Crop Science Department at the Ontario Agricultural College in Guelph. Dr. Clark has extensive experience in pasture management programs across North America and shared a number of new concepts with the participants.

She stressed that farmers need to take their pasture management much more seriously than has traditionally been done in Ontario and had facts and figures indicating how pasture can give one of the best returns of any farm crop. Dr. Clark indicated that adequate fertilizer on pasture is a must, recommending that phosphorus and potash be applied according to soil test, plus 100 to 150 lbs. of actual nitrogen per acre. When questioned about this high level of nitrogen, she indicated that 100 lbs. of actual nitrogen is required to produce one ton of protein in the pasture plants, and this is required to produce 300 lbs. of beef per acre.

Dr. Clark also recommended adding the nitrogen fertilizer even on pasture fields with a good legume stand, indicating that legumes only fix one-half of their own nitrogen requirements. She stressed, however, that these high levels of fertility must be accompanied by good grazing management with a rotational grazing system which has the pasture field rotated four or five times during the grazing season.

Fencing of pastures was also covered with Dr. Clark indicating that you only need a fence as good as your pasture growth is bad. With good pasture management, a cheap, light simple fence can be adequate.

Weaning Weight Club Meetings

The Victoria - Haliburton Weaning Weight Club will be meeting on Tuesday, March 26, in the Conference Room at the Lindsay Agricultural Office at 8:00 p.m.

This meeting will feature a report on the results from the Weaning Weight Program during 1984; plans will be made for weighing yearling heifers for participants, and the enterprise analysis project will be discussed in detail. In addition, participants interested in weighing yearlings on and off pasture will receive additional information on this project and there will be an update on what capital facilities are eligible for grants for Weaning Weight Club participants.

The Peterborough Cattlemen have arranged a spring tour of handling facilities for Saturday, March 23, and have invited interested Victoria County beef producers to participate. The tour will start at the farm of Bill English at 12:30 p.m. with visits to the farms of Ross and Joe Steed, and Herb Sullivan, as well, during the afternoon.

"Meat Matters"

"Meat Matters" more to 100 consumers and producers attending Tuesday, March 19's cooking and meat cutting demonstration. The evening seminar featured the purchasing, preparation and dietary value of the red meats, lamb, beef and pork. Christine Dukelow, Rural Organizations Specialist, OMAF and Linda McLaughlin, Home Economist, Nestleton, demonstrated five meat recipes, including a heart stir fry and veal and lamb schnitzels. Louis DeKoker demonstrated cutting a pork loin into retail cuts. In addition to the recipe preparation, red meat producers set up promotional displays which were enhanced by meat displays provided by DeKoker's Lindsay, and Mr. Grocer, Lindsay.

During the evening, door prizes were awarded to 16 of those in attendance. Erna Smith, Cecil Disney, Lenore Davidson, Myrtle Griffin and Irene Jewell won lamb cookbooks. Pork cookbooks went to Ed Teffy and Anna May Starett. Catherine Simmons and Eunice Rodman won tickets to Sheep Focus '85. A beef apron was presented to Teresa Hargrave. These prizes were courtesy of the Victoria County Sheep Producers, Pork Producers and Cattlemen's Association.

The Victoria County Pork Producers and John Stegenaga and Sons Ltd. donated a suckling pig, oven-ready, which was won by Velma Jones.

Goat Society debates industry issues at conference

By ERNEST HILLS

After weeks and months of hectic preparation, the Haliburton Highlands Goat Society presented a very successful forum for the debate of issues affecting the goat industry at their conference held March 16, in the Lindsay agricultural office.

The conference was hastily organized in response to the criticism and sometimes heated controversy surrounding a resolution, sponsored by the Haliburton club, which called for a stronger role for the provincial organization representing goat breeders. The exchange of ideas and perceptions were very frank and to the point, resulting in a productive session.

Included among the noted guests attending the conference were John Eakins, M.P.P. for Victoria-Haliburton, and Carm Hamilton, agricultural representative for the region. Close to fifty registered for the morning session. Organizations represented included the Canadian Goat Society, the Ontario Dairy Goat Society, and the Chevon Producers Association.

From among the regional clubs invited there were representatives from the Kawartha Dairy Goat Club, the Huronia Goat Club, the Guelph Area Goat Association, and host club, the Haliburton Highlands Goat Society. Several independent submissions were also received from private goat breeders, including Mia Lane of Forget-Me-Not Dairy Goats, Suzanne Bishop of Rainbeau Farm, and Russ Warren of Rusjune Farm.

Presentations by the regional organizations, as well as much of the content in the individual submissions were critical of the existing status quo within the industry. Identified as problem areas were communications, existing constitutional structures, and a lack of direction, which might be clearly addressed by a marketing and promotional program.

The meeting called for a review of the existing constitution of the Ontario Dairy Goat Society, with the focus upon items contained within the resolution of the Haliburton club. Those points included a review by the national and provincial organizations, with a view to reducing the duplication of services; a name change to reflect the new incentives involved in goat keeping; a review of the format for meetings of the ODGS, to provide a process by which regional clubs might present resolutions, independent of the directorship.

They would subsequently anticipate some follow-up on concerns expressed in resolutions which were adopted. And finally, a greater level of involvement both with the provincial ministry of agriculture, and other provincial farm organizations, on the part of the ODGS, to provide an effective lobby for the concerns and on-going needs of the goat keeping community.

Communication was the key note struck by all three levels of organization at the conference, and the recurring theme of the resolution of agreement involved the exchange of information in both directions of the organizational ladder. The sense of frustration was evident in the release of statistical data, showing the dramatic decline in membership to the provincial association, and thereby the lack of communication that exists with the majority of goat keepers who do not subscribe to the provincial publication.

Several of the resolutions evolving from the conference called for a renewed spirit of co-operation among the regional clubs and the provincial association. One joint venture proposed involves the formulation and circulation of a comprehensive survey of goatkeepers, their concerns and their requirements to become an effective part of the agricultural community.

Both Keri Kelso, vice-president of the Ontario Dairy Goat Society and Jack Spiers, president of the Canadian Goat Society voiced similar observations concerning a lack of participation by the grass-roots sector of the goatkeeping community. Further, there has been a reluctance in the past to extend into one's pocketbook for the programs, identified as necessary, but expensive undertakings all the same. Government constraints on spending have also curtailed much of the activity, such as research into health concerns, identified by goat breeders in attendance as so essential to the on-going viability of their operations.

The circle of indifference has encompassed such a wide sector of the industry, not only for want of a direction, as provided by decisive leadership, but for a lack of consensus on ideas by the membership. A comprehensive program including all facets of the goat breeders' productive capabilities would, while expanding the workload, also signal a call for unity and determination of purpose.

Spring has arrived, summer is near Dorset News

by Phyllis Briscoe

"Life is not a matter of holding good cards but of being able to play a poor hand as well."

The first day of spring, the Vernal or Spring Equinox, the day when the hours of daylight and darkness are equal, is behind us for another year. Now we will start planning our spring garden planting if that is our forte, or wondering how we are going to contend with the black flies, or just wishing our life away hoping summer will soon be here and that the days will fly until we are able to swim in the lake and absorb the sunshine. The next turning point is June 21, the summer solstice, which is the longest day in the year but until then it is nice to enjoy the extra hours of daylight which grow each evening.

Kyla Woods reached her 9th birthday on March 26.

Another March 26 birthday has come to our attention. A past resident of Dorset, Mrs. Aida Bathurst, was 93 years of age yesterday. Mrs. Bathurst lived on Highway 117 in Dorset for many years and was active in the community. She now resides in Huntsville. She is wished the best by those who knew her and that she will have many more birthdays.

We send greetings and best wishes for a speedy recovery to Lon Seedhouse who is a patient in Sunnybrook Hospital, Toronto.

The water level in the lake is very low with the ice well below its original height. When the water is dropped, the ice drops. If people have water lines into the lake, which many do, the possibility of them freezing is always there, since at the waterline the ice is almost on top of them if they aren't deeply buried. However, we hope that everyone comes through without any trouble. It's no fun to be without water, which as the old adage goes, you never miss until it is gone.

We are sorry to report the death of one of our well known citizens. The sudden death of Murray McEachern took place at Huntsville Hospital on Monday, March 18. Murray was born and raised at Paint Lake. He was the son of the late Stella and Donald McEachern, and except for his service in the navy during the war, has made his home here. The sympathy of the community is extended to his wife Milly, his son Andy and his daughters Penny Drebbitt and Ruth Ross, also to his sister Lorraine Weatherell. Murray was a real estate broker, having an office in the village and was also the Rideout councillor on the Lake of Bays council. He was highly thought of in the community and will be greatly missed by his many friends and associates.

A group of Guides and Brownies enjoyed a weekend at Doe Lake and were accompanied by two leaders, Ruth Ross and Sue Nicholls, as well as two mothers who went along to see that there was plenty of food for the group. There was six inches of snow and girls had a great time tobogganing and playing games in the snow, as well as lots of indoor games and sing-songs. The gang travelled by bus compliments of the Dorset Lions' Club.

H.H. When you are making French toast for breakfast why not finish up the loaf and the pieces that are not used can be cooled and wrapped, put in the freezer and voila! when you want a quick breakfast just pop them into the toaster and you have a ready made breakfast.

It's something to be shared...

it's the newspaper habit!

It's a common habit...reading the newspaper and, it's a habit we should all develop because, what we don't know might hurt us sometime!

Your newspaper is the biggest bundle of information around and sharing it with a household buddy is an easy way to become a well-informed family.

Bringing national, world and local news, events of social or sports or financial importance, guiding shoppers to the best buys, reporting statistics and data, your newspaper is one heck of a great buy for the money and, reading it is a real growing experience, an entertainment, and a great, in-house teacher/learning tool!

Help us
the odds...

On life.

What are the odds that thousands of Canadians who need kidney or other organ transplants will find a donor? That transplanted organs won't be rejected? That millions more with high blood pressure and other kidney related conditions will be diagnosed early and treated effectively? Because of programs funded by the Kidney Foundation, the odds are improving every day...not just for kidney patients, but for all Canadians. So when our volunteer calls for your help, please, if you can...tell us more than a coin. Call 1-800-361-7494 In B.C. 112-800-361-7494

THANK YOU

My grand opening was a smashing success and I have many people to thank for it. A special thanks to Julie, Larry, Ashley and Courtney, who made it all possible. My sincere wishes for all the very best. It is my intention to maintain the high quality of ladies wear combined with the wool shop and the same friendly service that we have become accustomed to at The Village Shoppe. A sincere thank you.
Sylvia Holland
27-CA-27

We are happy to say that Kelly Dawson has returned home. She would like to thank everyone for the cards and presents she received during her illness. Arthur and I would like to thank one and all for the kind words and special prayers that were offered for all of us. Special thanks to Dr. Hartwick, Rev. John Phillips, the St. George Prayer Chain and to Betty, Cliff and Kathy for taking care of Terry. 27-CA-27

IN MEMORIAM

Memories of a mother so dear, DELLA GRIFFIN - You were a mom to be proud of
And one I loved.
May we meet one day in God's home above.
Love, Lottie and family. 32-B-27

IN MEMORIAM

CANADIAN RED CROSS SOCIETY HALIBURTON BRANCH
Your donation in Memoriam to Red Cross could be used to support our work around the world, across Canada, or in this community.
RED CROSS IS FOR LIFE
32-CA-27C

In loving memory of a dear mother, ELLA GRIFFIN, who passed away March 28, 1983.
A wonderful mother, woman and aid;
One who was better God never made.
A wonderful worker, loyal and true,
One in a million, that mother, was you.
Just in your judgment, always right,
Honest and liberal, ever upright;
Loved by friend and all you knew,
A wonderful mother, that mother was you.
Sadly missed by Lila and Peter Gray and family. 32-P-27

McMAHON - In loving memory of a dear sister, Margaret, who passed away March 27, 1983. Sadly missed along life's way.
Quietly remembered every day.
No longer in our life to share
But in our hearts she's always there.
Lovingly remembered by sisters Millie, Mary, Madeline and niece Marilyn. 32-P-27

CARPENTER, Edward and Olive
In loving memory of a dear father and mother who passed away January 1, 1982 and April 1, 1978. We can't have old days back,
When we were all together,
But secret tears and loving thoughts
Will be with us forever.
Lovingly remembered by Douglas, Barbara and Family. 32-P-27

lowance.

Ed Pergolas was appointed as Acting Reeve.

Gary Kenney was appointed as Acting Deputy Reeve.

Council consented to reeve Lyle McKnight's absence from the regular meeting of council due to ill health until such time as he is able to resume his statutory duties.

Mention was made of the following items of correspondence: Minden Home Hardware - request to purchase former library property; Minden Red Cross Society - request to use downtown parkette and gazebo on August 3, 1985, for annual bazaar; D. MacDonald, Warden County of Haliburton - request for municipal representation on executive committee of LEAD project; City of Vanier - request for support of resolution regarding the use of both French and English in Provincial Legislature, courts, statutes and offices; Estimates of costs for surveying part of Township Road and parking area adjacent to Plan 357, Bob Lake; Toni Cooper, student at Archie Stouffer Public School - letter of thanks to council.

The clerk was authorized to obtain a formal appraisal of the former library property, being part of Lot 3, Concession A, in the Township of Anson.

The Minden Red Cross Society was granted permission to use the downtown parkette and gazebo on Saturday, August 3, 1985, for its annual bazaar.

Stuart Brandon was recommended as a candidate to represent the municipality on the executive committee for the County LEAD program.

A resolution submitted by the City of Vanier regarding the use of both the French and English languages in the Provincial Legislature, courts statutes and offices, was supported. Recorded vote: G. Kenney, Yea, P. Burk, Yea, D. Stevens, Nay, E. Pergolas, Yea.

The firm of Dearden and Stanton were requested to complete the required survey work on the roadway and parking area adjacent to Plan 357 on Bob Lake, Township of Anson, at an estimated fee of $450 - $550 as quoted.

The members of the property committee recommended that the former library lot be offered for sale to the adjoining property owners at a fair market price once a formal appraisal has been conducted.

The mini-fair building presently located at the Library-Cultural Centre will be offered to the Fair Board and will be moved and erected at the Fair Board's expense, and will be located to the satisfaction of council.

Councillor Gary Kenney submitted a preliminary report on a snow removal attachment called a "Snow Rid" which would lift onto a grader, loader or truck. This data was referred to B. Sisson, Community Services Co-ordinator for further investigation and evaluation.

Councillor G. Kenney made a verbal report to council on progress of arrangements for accommodating the participants in the 1985 Ride for Sight. Council agreed to the purchase and erection of a promotional banner at a cost of approximately $160.

The matter of removal of winter sand from downtown streets and sidewalks as well as continued maintenance, was referred to the Community Services Co-ordinator for consideration and recommendations.

The clerk was requested to contact the necessary individuals regarding the finishing of sidewalk construction in the downtown area.

G. Kenney reported that the BIA is planning to undertake a study of streetlighting in the downtown area. The members of council unanimously agreed to support such a study in principle.

G. Kenney advised that the BIA would appreciate receiving any information from the members of council on ways to improve parking facilities on Peck Street.

dig the big black iron kettle out of the snow and brush, where it had set undisturbed for many years. Claening it kept the two guys busy for another little while. The working arrangement was that Morris was the thinker, and the teacher, and Ed was the doer, and it worked out quite well, as what Ed knew about tapping trees would fit into the spiles he was using. Thus, with Morris' help, Ed learned which trees to tap (not elm), which side to tap, how deep to tap, etc., etc. Then they were in business.

Luckily, the first year, the loggers had been in the bush, and the road had been kept clear of snow. The Jeep, being recently hatched, took to the hill like a young pup. In the back were a couple of large, clean garbage cans. All Ed had to do was to get the sap from the buckets to the truck. He carried two five gallon pails from tree to tree, gaining weight as he went. Even with snowshoes, two forty-plus pound pails will pull you down through the snowcrust. His very next innovation was snap lids for the pails.

Making syrup is darned hard work. Especially the part where you have to sit around the campfire, watching the kettle boil. We didn't have the fireplace outdoors that first year, so the guys just shovelled out a spot in the yard for the fire. The big kettle was held by a pole of green maple resting on two sawhorses. This had to be periodically changed, when the eventually began to char. There were many deep discussions held around the fire. We learned that sap usually won't run in an easterly wind. And whatever way the wind is blowing when the season changes to spring is the way it will blow for the next forty days. We heard stories about the huge black kettle used for syrup making on Cranberry Lake in the early 1900's. A kettle around eight feet in diameter, which is still somewhere in West Guilford. Also, about the two long evaporator pans Morris' Dad bought from Sir Sam, and how they were operated.

After two or three days of adding sap, and boiling, and talking, the syrup was allowed to boil down. The first batch was kind of tricky. What with Morris out of practice, and a couple of rank amateurs it was anybody's guess whether it was done enough.

Then, Dot and I took over with the straining. Also, very primitive. We used old pillow cases and mesh curtains. Needless to say, we had a lot of sediment in our syrup that first year. Sticky business too. But it was sweet, and good, and we made it. We were all quite proud of ourselves.

As I said, this is our fourth year, and things have improved some. Ed and I sometimes dog pull a sled of sorts between the trees, Morris still supervises, and empties some buckets. And he usually makes the decision as to when it's done. We now have a strong iron pole holding the kettle over a wide, stone fireplace. Last year, we even bought a regulation felt strainer. And the syrup is getting better by the batch. Why, just the other day, we made the sweetest syrup ever. Even the sap is sweeter this year. (That means it's going to be a short run, you know).

Before you ask, there's none for sale. By the time the kids get some, and we put some away for gifts, there's just enough for our own use. You folks will have to get some of that nice professionally made evaporator syrup. But we'll take the old, darker, black kettle syrup anytime. As our grandson, Jeremy said yesterday, when he made evaporator syrup. But we'll take the old, darker, black kettle syrup anytime. As our grandson, Jeremy said yesterday, when we caught him with his fingers in the syrup. "Good stuff, Poppa!"
